2013 4th Quarter General Aid

We were able to assist these families in our community this quarter, with some of their general necessities. Please take a moment to read how we are making an impact here in New Mexico.

Maida Olives is a recently divorced woman, who is currently unemployed. At 56, she is struggling to find a job, and she is going back to school to gain marketable life skills. We helped her out with a Walmart gift card, to cover some of her basic household needs.

Arias Foster is a single mother of one toddler, who recently separated from her daughter's father due to his addiction problem. As he was the income provider, and she is working on finishing school, she was short on her bills this month. We gave her a Walmart gift card to help with household staples.

Rachelle Salas is a mother of 3, who overcame homelessness and addiction, and is now attending CNM in the CYFD program. She has been having car problems that are more than she can afford to fix. We helped her with a Walmart gift card to pay for regular household items.

Norma Legarda is a retired woman with diabetes who was recently given custody of her daughter's children; as she is not working and has no insurance, her dialysis treatments are more than she can afford. We helped her with a Walmart gift card, to cover some of her daily necessities.

Charlene Jaques is a single mother of two, attending school at CNM. Her income was recently cut, and she is a bit short on rent. We helped her with a portion of her rent this month.

Julianita Casuas is single mother of two boys, and she attends CNM for the CYFD program, pursuing a career in social work. While she currently has some work as a student employee, it has not been enough to pay bills. We helped her with a portion of her car payment.

Mary Shaw is a mother of three, whose son was diagnosed with leukemia in October. She has been out of work since that time, and she has gone through all of her savings. She is able to go back to work, once her son's condition has stabilized, but needs help catching up. We gave her a Walmart gift card to cover household goods.

Sara Ortiz is a young woman living with her parents, attending school full time. Financial aid does not cover all of her college expenses, and her parents live on a fixed income of disability and part-time work. We helped pay some of her expenses at UNM

EMERGENCY ASSISTANCE RECIPIENTS

Crystal Vasquez is a wife and mother of two, whose family, including three parents, live on the income of her husband, who recently suffered a violent injury at work. As he is self-employed and has no insurance, the medical bills have piled up, and they have fallen behind on utilities. We helped them with a Walmart card to cover basic household needs.

Agueda Olivas and her family, husband and three children, recently lost their home in a fire, and are temporarily living with another family. They lost everything and are in the process of completely rebuilding their lives. We gave them a gift card to Walmart, to help replace a little of what was lost.
